PROGRAM DETAIL

Bureau: LAW	No: 05-0501	Department: Non-Departmental	Program: Legal Services	No: 001
-----------------------	-----------------------	--	-----------------------------------	-------------------

Program Description:

The Solicitor's Office provides legal services to all of city government including: the Mayor and the Mayor's Administration consisting of all Departments and Bureaus; City Council; the City Controller; and City Commissions, Boards and Agencies. The legal services provided include: advocating before courts and other tribunals to pursue and protect City interests and enforce City laws; advising City government as to legal matters; preparing and reviewing legal documents; supervising outside counsel; reviewing and drafting legislation; and handling of Right to Know Law requests; The Office employs four full-time attorneys appointed as solicitors (one Solicitor, one Associate Solicitor, two Assistant Solicitors). The office oversees outside counsel who are retained to handle specialized matters requiring particular expertise.

Goal(s):

- To provide legal counsel to city government concerning its affairs in a diligent and discerning manner in accordance with the Office's responsibilities under the City of Allentown's Home Rule Charter and applicable laws.
- To litigate City matters in the most effective and economic means through the appropriate use of solicitors and retained counsel.
- To prepare, review and, when appropriate, negotiate, legal documents including contracts, leases, and easements.
- To draft and revise Ordinances for City government.

Measurable Budget Year Objectives and Long-Range Targets:

Full-time Solicitor. Making the Solicitor position full time in June 2019 has enabled better oversight of the inhouse work of our attorneys and staff. It has also led to greater oversight of the work of our outside counsel. This has refined the quality of the Office's advocacy, advice and opinions. It has enabled the Office to provide more extensive legal services to components of city government outside the Administration, including City Council and authorities, boards and commissions.

Increase inhouse handling of matters.

Recruited and hired the most experienced staff the Office has had. For the first time in decades, every full time attorney in the office had double-digits years of experience as an attorney prior to starting with the Office. Three of our attorneys have 20+ years of attorney experience and one has 15+ years. This has improved the quality of advice and representation that comes from the office.

Assignment of negligence cases inhouse. All negligence cases (100%) filed this year against the City have been kept inhouse.

Greater use of paralegal experience of staff. Extensive paralegal preparation work is being done inhouse to reduce the need for it to be done by outside counsel.

Increased involvement in code enforcement matters. The office has increased its appearance at code enforcement matters.

Greater availability for advisory functions. The Solicitor's Office has begun sending solicitors to some board and commission meetings to assist in advising them. For instance, for the first time in recent memory, a solicitor has been working with and advising the City of Allentown Human Relations Commission. Solicitor office involvement helps improve compliance with applicable law and also helps to identify when such laws should perhaps be amended to make them current.

Budget Priorities:

The Solicitor's Office priorities are in large part determined by the goals and plans of the various City branches of government, departments, bureaus, authorities, boards and commissions. This office serves those entities. The goals and plans of those entities establish legal needs. Solicitor Office budgeting is in significant part a reaction to the actions taken and proposed by those entities. The Solicitor's Office has noticed the following trends over the last year and a half:

- Increased demand for the advisory function of the Solicitor's Office by Administration Departments.
- Increased demand for the advocacy function of the Solicitor's Office by Administration Departments.
- Increased demand for services of the Solicitor's Office services by City Council.
- Greater enforcement of City Ordinances (Code, noise, nuisance, tax) involving more Solicitor involvement.

A more experienced staff allows more matters to be maintained inhouse. The cost of handling matters inhouse is a fraction of the cost of having outside counsel handle matters. Without adequate staffing, legal matters must be sent to outside counsel at far greater cost. Additionally, inadequate Solicitor office staffing may lead to government entities not submitting legal issues to the Solicitor's Office, but instead reaching their own legal conclusions which can lead to questionable results. It should be noted though, that even with adequate staffing, government entities who do not want their actions reviewed for legality may find creative ways to avoid such review. Appropriately staffing the Solicitor's office may perhaps reduce the likelihood of such conduct by governmental entities.
